2.0 Monitoring

For monitoring, Californicated uses in-ear monitoring. If there is no system available, Californicated will bring their own system. There are two options for creating the in-ear monitor mix:

If the venue does not have its own monitor mixer, Californicated can plug their signals into their own system to control their in-ear mix via a digital mixer. FOH is then supplied with the lines via a 16 channel snake (XLR).

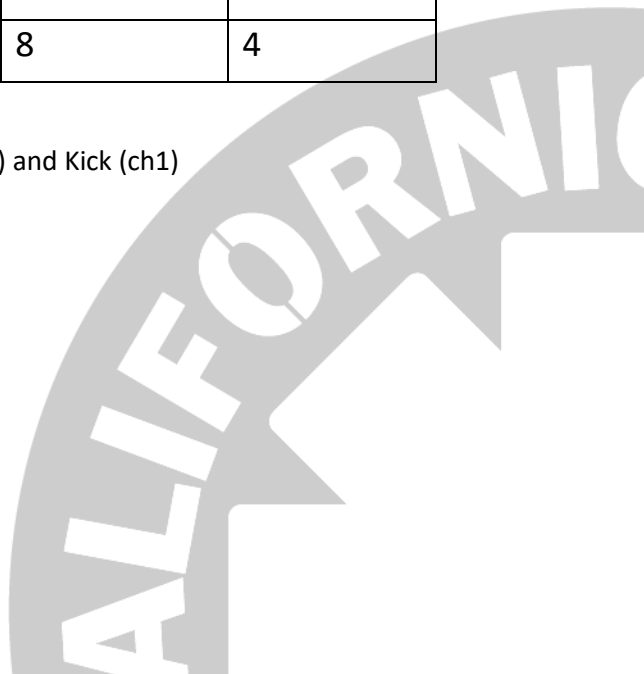

If the venue itself has a monitor engineer, but cannot provide in-ear monitoring, the Californicated system can be used as a relay. The four monitor groups can then be plugged into inputs 1/2, 3/4, 5/6 and 7/8 in accordance with the monitor mixes below (XLR, adapter plugs for speakon are also provided).

3.0 Instrumentlist and in-ear mix

See the table below for Californicated's time list. We bring our own microphones. There is also a click track for some songs via our rack mixer on channel 17. This is not sent to FOH. There is also a separate input available for a talkback mic.
